THERE was again a crowded house at the performance of the Amateur Dramatic Club's highly successful Pantomime last night. The fun and frolic were as fresh as ever, and the audience as ready to laugh and applaud as on the first night. Ali Baba, in some respects one of the most difficult and risky things the A. D. C. has undertaken, is now entitled to be ranked among the big successes of the Club's history. Encores were so frequent again last night that the entertainment lasted beyond midnight, and the principal performers, some of whom have a sufficiently hard sight's work to get through, must have been rather fired before the finish. Messrs Lightwood and Lapraik were as funny as ever, and perhaps more so, and Ally Mac-It is now stated that Lord Salisbury's Sloper Hopkins, who shines as a bright parnote was not threatening; but he asks that | ticular star, seemed as if he could hold the Goods per Melpomene undelivered after peremptory orders be given to Portugueso stage the whole evening and keen the audiofficials against a renewal of Major Pinto's ecce laughing all the time. The romantic acts. Nine British war vessels have as element in the paniomime was admirably treated by Mrs Roberson and Mr Grace, whose singing and dancing were repturously applauded. The duct by Sloper and Mrs Cassim (Mrs Fraser Smith), one of the most fetching things in the pantomime, was even belter done last night than at any enthusiastically encored. On the fall of the curtain there was a loud and maislent and ongustus Harrie's rival, who had just appeared and made his modest bow amid a

THE Hon. Lowis Wingfield contributes an amusing description to the New Review of How I Directed a Lord Mayor's Show.

One of my most difficult tasks, ' says the writer, 'was the selection of the Queen of Beauty. How variously uncouth were the candidates! Middle-uged ladies, raddled with the stage-paint of half-a-century; simpering, sallow, undergrown creaturesstunted flowers that had struggled upward in some noisome slum. A few had good features but no complexions; others fresh skins spread over faces as flat and meaningless as a warming-pan. Eventually a shy maiden turned up, with many blushes and much embarrassment, who said she was a suburban tailoress and would like to figure in the Show. Dark eyes, fairly regular features, and a colour like dew-dipped roses. 'My dear! you'll do, and you shall have your way. You shall be measured for a wig forthwith and pose as the Queen of Beauty.' She really did look like an artiess maiden—there are a few such it would seem, in the outlying wilds of the metropolis. Tears welled into her eyes, as she said slowly: 'Oh! won't mother be proud and pleased!' In suburban streets, as at the Empire or the Albambra, and the uneasiness of heads that wear crowns.

The young lady waxed mighty scornful.

I could not bash the lot ? I breathed again. My Queen of Beauty was every inch a queen, prepared to hold her own against all comers—as resolute as Bess her-

Ir is a good sign in a country when the Savings Banks show a swelling record, and if we may judge from the returns for the year 1888 89 the banks in India seem to be steadily advancing in popularity. There were 85 new banks opened during the year. and over 51,000 new depositors: while the increase in deposit receipts was over 66 lakhs-a very substantial improvement indeed. It is a noteworthy indication both of the prosperity and thrift of the Bombay Presidency that it continues to show both the greatest number of depositors and the largest average deposit balance.

THE principle of the Switchback Railway has been applied in a novel form for mi litary purposes. In his speech at the opening of the Bombay Presidency Rifle meeting, H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught said: 'As an an evidence of the interest taken by the Volunteers of this Presidency in shooting, I hay mention the invention by Captain Rossiter of a running man and bounding tiger, run on a switchback railway, to be seen at the new range.' The iden might be developed in other parts of the country with much profit to riflemen.

En-President Cleveland is about to appear in Court in a curious case. Two young bloods of San Francisco named respectively Jimmy Coleman and Jimmy Flynn started for an Eastern tour, and retained a state room in a palace car for purposes of prayer and meditation. Owing to some blunder of the ticket agents, the state room was sold, from Omaha east, to two young ladies. Coleman and Flynn alighted at that point to 'see a man; when they returned, they found the ladies in possession, and their gripsacks piled in a heapon the floor. Explanations failed to reconcile matters. The ladies announced their firm intention of sleeping in 'those beds.' They respectfully but firmly declined the society of the San Franciscans. The conductor and the porter were summoned, and it is said that the men from the Gold n West swore a good deal. But neither oath nor entreaty availed. A lettered passenger, bethinking himself of the device employed in a like strait in the Sentimental Journey, suggested that the state room, which contains four berths, might be partitioned off by a sheet in the middle; but at this one of from source to its bourne.
